1 Motivation

I have learned Python before, but as time has passed, I find myself needing a refresher to get back up to speed with the latest features and best practices. People say there are many ways Python can be written. But I always felt there is one true way to write Python depending on the use case. So this document serves as my internal monologue as I make these decisions throughout my workflow. It contains code snippets, explanations and occasional ramblings about why I choose to do things a certain way. Written by me for me.
